

ARGENTINA - BRAZIL

Day: 1

Location: BUENOS AIRES

Description: Transfer to the hotel. In the afternoon you are going to have a city tour to see the most important tourist attractions as the aristocratic residential buildings at the north and their numerous restaurants, pastry shops, nightclubs and dressy stores, which create a fascinating atmosphere. You visit the dapper neighborhood called Palermo Chico in which embassies, consulates and museums are located. Furthermore you attend a park called "3rd February" or "The gardens of Palermo" in which are the following attractions located: "El Rosedal", the botanical garden, the planetarium, the zoo, the Argentinean racecourse for horses as well as the monument "Monumento a La Carte Magna y las Cuatro Regiones Argentinas" and the urban golf course. The avenues are one of the world's widest ones. On your final trip to the observation deck of the congress palace and of the monument named "Monumento de los Dos Congresos" up to the "Plaza de Mayo" you pass the Obelisk, which is an emblem of Buenos Aires, the square of the republic, the Columbus theater and you have a short distance walk through the district called "San Telmo" up to the urban quarter "La Boca". "La Boca" is very famous because of its interesting history. There is a street named "Caminito" which is famous for its spirit of tango music and its coloured buildings. Return to the hotels and overnight stay.

Location: BUENOS AIRES

Description: This excursion has an early departure because of moving to the pampas. The first attraction is a visit of a typical Estancia Argentina. By eating Empanada or Asado, which is an Argentinean style of making barbecue, you can feel the atmosphere of country life. Additional to that you hear some local folk music and have the chance to dance together some tango. Furthermore you watch the Gauchos' traditional horse race. It is impressive to see the professional handling of the horses. You also have the opportunity to ride a horse as well as to take a ride on the typical cart. You are going to feel like a real Gaucho! Return to the hotels and overnight stay.
